

FHYRA NEWS

Name: Luna Bridgith Zamora Gaitan

Maria Alejandra Barrera Velasco

IN THIS NEWSPAPER YOU WILL FIND

-the impact

-events

-activities

-news

-podcasting process

What did we learn from the project?

FHYRA NEWS

Name: Luna Bridgith Zamora Gaitan

Name: Maria Alejandra Barrera Velasco

HOW WAS THE PODCASTING PROCESS?

-we meet with the company group, We thought about ideas individually and then shared them with the business group the best ideas to attract our target client, We translated by having clear ideas after that we looked at what songs to use and in the end we translated We distributed and agreed on what each of us was going to do, there was a lot of noise in the background of the first podcasts when we started recording

FHYRA NEWS

THE COMPANY OUT DIFFERENT

She said that the business fair will show the result of a two-year job, which is her company and everything that makes it up.

COMMENTS GIRLS OF ELEVEN

talking with girls of both eleven they are nervous about the sustainability of this project that will take place in the month of October

FHYRA NEWS

IMPACT

Fhyra was a fictitious company created by us for our SENA project, all our workshops and guides are based on it. From making the documents to register it to the organization of our store.

It has marked our school process, it has been difficult but we are also proud of what we have done

EVENTS

In September and October we finished our project, after almost two years. We are enthusiastic to present the products and if we pass, we will receive our certificates

FHYRA NEWS

Name: Luna Bridgith Zamora Gaitan

Name: Maria Alejandra Barrera Velasco

WHAT WE LEARN ABOUT THE PROJECT?

FHYRA gave us the opportunity to learn through all of our academic training. Although it has been difficult having to fulfill the responsibilities of the school and this, it was not impossible. A long and tedious process will be worth it

